In the death of Matthew Gault Emery, which occurred on the 12th instant, this board has lost a valued member and co-worker for the interests of the company. Mr. Emery was most closely identified with our institution, having been one of its incorporators and, ever since its organization, a director, and for some time past a member of the executive committee. Long past the allotted three score years and ten, his age did not prevent his regular attendance at ail meetings of the committee and of this board. Dealers Said to Use Measures Which

W. C. Haskell, the District scaler of weights and measures, has inaugurated a war on those hucksters who, it is alleged, have been serving their customers with short measures. Mr. Haskell detailed his second assistant, Leo S. Schoenthal, last Saturday to watch the operations of the venders in the territory covered by him. The latter has made an official report, in which he details the evidence he is said to have secured against two parties. In one instance, it is alleged, the wagon belonged to George Green of 1327 1st street southeast, and was in charge of Harvey Brown. In the second instance the wagon was said to belong to Edward Bowns, living on L street southeast between L and M streets. and in charge of Oilie Brown and Lawrence Burgess. The assistant sealer alleges that in both instances potatoes were offered for sale to customers in buckets which purported to contain one-half pack. Mr.

Schoenthal says:
"A lawful half-peck contains 338 cubic inches, while these buckets contain but 236 about 37 per cent less than a lawful half-peck. I have measured and weighed po-tatoes in these two buckets, which I con-fiscated, and find that the highest weight obtained from potatoes, packed in and piled in cone shape, the top of which is six inches above the measure, to be but 51/2 pounds, or two pounds less than the weight required by law for a half-peck." Brightwood Sunday School Rally. Brightwood Park M. E. AN INDIAN AGENT'S PROTEST

DECLARES GAME WARDENS ARE IN-DULGING IN PERSECUTIONS.

Savs Few of His People Are Off Their Reservation-The Governor's

Charge.

The Indian bureau today received the following telegram from H. P. Myton, agent in charge of the White Rocks (Utah) Indian reservation, dated at Meeker, Col.: "I believe game wardens of Colorado are persecuting Eggleston, one of my Indians. He was tried and acquitted before a jury in Rio Blanco county, where they claimed the offense was committed. After the jury returned a verdict of not guilty the game wardens, as I am told, without authority of law, took him to Glenwood Springs, where he is now in jail. Please ask the Department of Justice to order the United States attorney to defend him. The game wardens should be made to pay for Eggles ton's property that they have destroyed. The citizens of this county believe Eggleston has been persecuted. Very few of my Indians are hunting in Colorado. Full par-ticulars by mail." Gov. Orman of Colorado had previously telegraphed the Secretary of the Interior as follows: Bands of about 300 Indians are in Colorado from the White Rocks, Utah, agency, destroying game in direct violation of the laws of the state. Immediate provision must be made by you to remove them. Otherwise there will be serious trouble. 1 am satisfied that the government's agent at White Rocks is not using proper efforts It is said at the bureau that the same report is started every year. Last year, according to the officials, investigation proved that several state game wardens were hunting with the Indians. No response has been wired yet to the governor.

The Indian office has been informed that the Indians at the Red Lake agency refuse money due from logging operations last winter is also paid at this time, as they claim it was promised them by the departnent. The Indians are reported to be in a sullen mood. The Indian bureau has telegraphed to Agent Mercer of the Red Lake Indian agency, Minn., authority to pay the Indians he money they are demanding as part of the proceeds of their logging operations. The official advices do not indicate the im-

to accept the annuity payment unless the minence of any serious trouble, and the instructions to pay, despite the fact that the proceeds are not finally recorded here, are expected to adjust the matter satisfac-torily. The money demanded amounts to shout $14 000 Special Agent Jenkins of the Indian bureau has sent his report to the Interior De-partment bearing upon the recent disturbince at Lower Brule, Minn., reservation The trouble was caused, the report says, by an Indian taking his daughter from the agency hospital and refusing to bring her back. Rev. Dr. Frank H. Barton, pastor of St. John's Church, corner of Potomac and O streets, was found yesterday morning in the cellar of the parsonage in an unconscious condition. He had gone down to the basement to select some old furniture which he intended to donate for a rummage sale shortly to be head in St. John's Church for charitable purposes. This morning he was still unconscious. Mr. Barton thought that while bending over he became unconscious from the rush of blood to his head, but it is believed his condition may be due to some injury received during the fail, or that he had a stroke of apoplexy.

COL. SANGER'S REPORT TO THE ADJUTANT GENERAL.

Weather conditions and general forecast.

—The barometric conditions have not changed materially during the last twenty-four hours. An area of high pressure still overlies the central portions of the country and completely dominates the weather in all districts. Insurrectionist Shelters Destroyed-Numerous Maps Made - Many Miles of Road Restored.

The adjutant general of the army has received a report from Col. J. P. Sanger of the inspector general's department in regard to an inspection made by him of the affairs of the corps of engineers in the Philippine Islands.

"Commencing with the reconnaissances in front of the Spanish army in July, 1898, south of the Onio, except the east Florida coast, where rain will probably continue. The winds along the south Atlantic coast will continue light northerly, except on the south Florida coast, where fresh to brisk east to northeast winds will prevail. Light to fresh westerly winds will continue along the middle Atlantic coast and over the lower lakes conducted by Colonel Potter and Lieutenant Connor," says Colonel Sanger, "the officers and enlisted men of the Engineer Corps have been constantly on duty up to this time, rendering most valuable service. The work performed by them generally has been the repair and construction of roads, pean ports will have light breezes and fair weather to the Grand Banks.

"Up to the establishment of civil government, July 4, the civil work of the Engineer Corps was carried on pari-passu with their tion of the division commander as military governor. Consequently no attempt has been made to separate them in this report. With the inauguration of the civil governor work on the port of Manila theretofore performed by the engineers by military orders passed nominally under civil control, and although work on roads and bridges in progress on that date will be continued by the engineers until the present appropria-tion is exhausted. It will then be transferred to the civil authorities probably, or as soon thereafter as they are able to assume it. River and Harbor Work. "Among the important civil works which have devolved on the engineers has been the preparation of plans for dredging the Pasig river and for the improvement of the harbor of Manila. In order that the engineers might retain supervision over this work after the transfer of the civil government the acts of the civil government making the necessary appropriations pre-scribed that they should be expended under the direction of the chief engineer of the Orders were accordingly by the division commander placing Major Sears in charge of the port of Manila, and on July 31 additional orders directed him to perform such duties in connection with lighthouses as might be assigned to him by the civil governor. It is understood that this is the first step toward the establishment of a lighthouse board corresponding to its prototype in the United States.

Work on the Episcopal chapel at Congress Heights will be begun by tomorrow, it is expected. Contractor Jones of Congress Heights will be the builder. The chapel is a gift from Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Randle of Congress Heights, and will bear the name of the Esther Memorial Chapel, as a memorial to the mother of Mrs. Randle. It will be constructed on Randle lane. The rooms rented from Mr. Henry Buscher, adjoining his residence at Good Hope, for the use of the public schools are in readiness, and the annex school will be opened soon. Desk furniture and black-boards have been installed. It is stated to be the intention to hold the first and second grade classes in these rooms.

District painters are engaged in improv-ing the interior appearance of the local police station. Mrs. Charlotte Pleasant is having erected on the Hamilton road near Good Hope a two-story frame house, to take the place of the one destroyed by fire there recently. Mr. Joseph Baker and Mr. Edward Baker, formerly of St. Elizabeth's Asylum, are on a visit here from Eddyville, Dawson county, Neb.

In response to your editorial in Monday's paper, I beg you will receive the inclosed sum of $10 for the Stone ransom fund. The pathos of the situation cannot be overestimated, and public sympathy for Miss Stone's aged mother should take a practical form in a swift completion of the amount needed to release her heroic daughter. A little self-denial practised by a small fraction of the American people will suffice. The regenerating work of missionaries is not understood by the general public as it should be. Knowledge must be sought in this as in other branches of history. It is sometimes made a reproach that missionaries create a disturbance. This was also said of the founder of the Christian faith. Degrading superstition is apt to make a strong fight when challenged by righteousness. Morally, intellectually and physically, the missionaries minister. physically the missionaries minister to M.

The success of the American Wireless Telephone and Telegraph Company in keeping the entire New Jersey shore line informed of the progress of the yachts in the recent contests for the America's cup. demonstrated how easily a vessel in distress, equipped with wireless telegraphic instruments, can communicate not only with the life-saving station, miles away, but also that the electro-etheric impulses can be received by a distant vessel, invisible to the eye or unperceivable by marine glasses, but by wireless communication, assistance could be quickly secured. The American Wireless Telegraph Company is now erecting a station adjacent to the United States life saying station at Ben United States life-saving station at Barnegat City, where many vessels headed for the ports of New York and Philadelphia touch. This is also used as a guiding point for steamers from Europe for the southern route. From this point important service can be rendered to the government's life saving service, and wireless reports of saving service, and wireless reports of passing ships can be dispatched to the newspapers, and the maritime exchanges and wrecking companies. Dr. Gehring, the president of the company, says that the company and its associated subcompanies propose erecting additional stations along Joseph I. Keefer has written to the Dis-
